About Linden Housing Co-operative

Linden Housing Co-operative is a citizen led initiative that has been 2 years in the making. It started with The Table obtaining a grant from PDCF to offer information sessions on affordable housing solutions for the community.

Out of this, a passionate board was created and momentum gathered to pursue this dream.

The federal government is offering a funding stream specifically for co-operative housing and we latched on.

Linden connected with an incredible expert who is our project manager, Lindsay Blair of 2B Developments. They have worked tirelessly for Linden to become a reality, and together we are making it so.

September 15, 2024 our (super intense) application will be submitted with a request for $10Million dollars to develop one of the first rural cooperative housing developments.

This musical fundraiser "Songs for Stability" will 100% go toward this non-profit initiative and help benefit the soft costs we have to bring this unfathomable feat about. Songs for Stability is sponsored by Perth Brewery, Top Shelf Distillers, and Artizen Kombucha. There will also be incredible raffle baskets available. These baskets will be full of goodies from local businesses.

The Second Wife's Story: Welcome to the Matheson Housewarming Experience

Date and Time: Saturday, October 19 10:00 am - 1:00 pm

Ready for a party that will spill the tea?

Who needs Bridgerton, Downton Abbey, and Outlander when you've got the Perth Museum? Sure, these shows aren't set in the same time periods - but they all share something in common: jaw-dropping fashion, breathtaking interiors, stunning gardens, and food and drink that's to die for. That's exactly what you'll experience this fall all at the Perth Museum.

Gather your crew, turn off Netflix, and get ready for an afternoon that will transport you back in time - where you're not just watching history, you're living it.

We're throwing an 1840s housewarming party, inspired by a real chapter from the Matheson family history. Annabella Russell, Roderick Matheson's second wife, will be your host, welcoming you into their actual house for a one-of-a-kind experience.

Wondering what a housewarming in 1840 looked like?

Think Bridgerton game night vibes, minus the scandal.

Kick things off by meeting the house staff, who'll show you the behind-the-scenes prep for this grand event - and spill the juiciest about how Annabella and Roderick came to be.

Next, you'll step into character. Head upstairs, where a selection of 1840s attire awaits. Pick your look and get ready for your close-up in front of the original Drawing Room fireplace, with period music setting the perfect scene.

Sip on a custom old-fashioned mocktail and play a period party game that's sure to have you in stitches.

And then, it's tea time! Gather around the dining room table in your period-perfect outfits, just like Annabella's guests would have done. As you enjoy your tea, you'll get a glimpse into Mrs. Matheson's life - past and present.

Ready to join the party?

Tickets are now available (via TicketsPlease.ca) for experiences in October and November for $125 (plus applicable fees).
